About WAM

After operating in several organizational forms since 1928, the Wyoming Association of Municipalities (WAM) was incorporated in 1967 as a non-profit, non-partisan organization representing and serving Wyoming's cities and towns. Every Wyoming citizen relies on quality services and facilities provided by cities and towns. This is especially true as 69 percent of Wyoming's population lives in a municipality.

WAM's mission is to advocate for cities' and towns' common interest and provide educational opportunities for WAM members.

WAM is governed by a Board of Directors composed of mayors, council members, and representatives from Great Open Spaces City Management Association (GOSCMA), Wyoming Association of Municipal Clerks and Treasurers (WAMCAT) and Leadership Training Services (LTS).

WAM OBJECTIVES:

- ADVOCATE for Wyoming's cities' and towns' municipal interests regarding both state and federal legislation.
- Provide TRAINING opportunities to municipal officials and staff through the Local Government Leadership Program, which assists Wyoming communities with fundamental training.
- COMMUNICATE all things related to municipal governance, training, outreach and advocacy. Contact WAM to discover all the ways it keeps its members and stakeholders informed.

811 is the phone number you call before digging to protect yourself and others from unintentionally hitting underground utility lines. There are millions of miles of buried utilities beneath the surface of the earth that are vital to everyday living like water, electricity and natural gas.

811 is the federally designated call before you dig number that helps homeowners and professionals avoid damaging these vital utilities. When you make the free call to 811 a few days before you dig, you'll help prevent unintended consequences such as injury to you or your family, damage to your property, utility service outages to the entire neighborhood and potential fines and repair costs.
